I, Laverne Friedman, will my giggling spells and my yell leadership to Ardella Hopf.

I, Wilda Mae Gehlhausen, will my quietness and artistic talent to Mary Lee Nordhoff.

I, Evelyn Grieve, will my week-ends at home to Helen Bachman. (Staying at home once in a while is good for you.)

I, Iona Neukam, will my ability to sleep in Civics Class on Monday morning to the unfortunate girls who stay out late on Saturday and Sunday nights.

I, George Neukam, will my position as Senior Class President to Norma Lee Sendleweck because of experience, ability and other reasons too numerous to mention.

I, Alex Pieper, will my love for Post-Graduates of D. H. S. and my New Years' Resolution of '49 to Glenn Ziegler.
I, Robert Lee Pieper, will my love for picking a fight to Bernard Gilson.

Class Prophecy

Woe is me! Woe is me! Here I have the first Saturday off in four months and look what happened to me. First thing my car wouldn’t start when I tried to sneak out to go fishing, so I had to go and wake Henry (Henry is my next door neighbor) and ask him to help start my car. In the process we woke my wife. Then the fun really began. First of all I had to stay at home. Second I had to fix breakfast. Then my wife looked at the calendar and noticed it was April. And as Spring had come late this year (Oh, why did Spring have to come late this year of ’59?) I was to help clean house. Giving me a break, she assigned me to the attic.

So reluctantly I trudged up the stairs, one foot after the other, until I reached the top. My, what a nice mess of papers. I’ll be able to clean them up in an hour. So that means that I can sleep for at least two or three hours.

I had hardly dozed off to sleep, my wife came up the stairs to see why everything was so quiet. Well the outcome of the argument was that I was to clean up the attic right away. So I went to work.

The mess consisted mostly of old newspapers and old books. So for the next two hours I looked at the funnies, I especially enjoyed Mutt and Jeff. Finally I drew out a rather familiar looking book. Overcome by curiosity, I opened it. It was my old high school yearbook. No wonder it looked so familiar.

It looked familiar, but yet, I had difficulty in recalling some of the faces. Proceeding to leaf through the old book I came upon a section entitled “Class Prophecies”. And this is what I read;

I, Father Time of the year 1959, while looking over the party at the new Gymnasium at Dubois High School was very much amused. The class of ’49 is older now, but the people are still the same in their actions and features.

As I looked more closely in on the party, I saw no one but the honorable Paul Wm. Baer. He was standing by the chow, sampling the punch and devouring a combination sandwich. This seemed to be a very appropriate place for Paul, but forgetting about his appetite he is a very well-liked person. He is now pastor of the church of Haysville.

As I was watching Paul I saw a Mrs. ..........(I can’t quite recall her last name), who used to be Miss Wilda Gehlhausen, walk over to Paul. They talked for a while then went over to dance. It reminded me of the time when she and Paul were in the Senior Class Play. They did a splendid job. Well, anyway Wilda now has a Government job at Washington D. C., and is now having a three weeks vacation.
Finally I saw Geraldine Strotman (now Hentrup) come over to get some punch. She stood there for a while watching the dancers until some fellow by the name of George Neukam came up from behind her and tapped her on the shoulder. I heard him say very distinctly "How about a dance, Gerry, just for old times sake." I can still remember at the dances at school when those two usually were dancing partners. I don't think they were personally interested in each other but they did like to dance together and were good school day friends. Anyway, George is some construction foreman now, who is giving his family a fair living and Gerry is a very affectionate housewife.

As I glanced toward the corner of the gymnasium, I saw two couples talking together. At a second glance I saw they were two very prosperous farmers, Leroy Schnarr, with his wife Iona Neukam and Bob Buchta with his wife Wilma Hall. I remember when these two couples used to run around together. Leroy has the biggest farm in Boone township and Bob has the biggest farm down by Haysville.

Moving my eyes to the orchestra pit, whom should I see but Charles Schnell at the piano. That magic touch for the piano keyboard had begun in school and now he is the second Frankie Carle. He now has a program of his own over WITZ. Beside the piano stood that singer of the class Alva Leistner. He was singing that old favorite, "Buttons and Bows" which made a great hit back in 1948-'49. He and Charles were always at the piano, singing and playing, during the noon hour at school. Alva now has a job driving a truck for the J. C. Truck Line.

At the front of the stage by the loud speaker I saw some funny looking creature with a false nose, and his pants rolled up who was putting on an act of some kind. I was wondering who out of the Class of '49 could put on such a show as that. After I thought it over I knew there was one person by the name of Edward Rasche in that class. After everyone hollered, "yah rah Eddie" I knew I was right. He is now an excellent marksman in the Army. He started his career by shooting water guns in school and he always had good timing, taking aim when the teacher wasn't looking.

At the foot of the stage there were seated two men and their wives talking about mathematics. I'll bet their wives are bored by the subject, but they act interested. When I heard the word "Mathematics" I knew it could be no one else but Delbert Meyer and Gene Matheis. In school they were the boys that really knew their mathematics. Delbert is now a professor of Mathematics at Indiana University. I heard him say he took off at school early because he couldn't miss the party. Gene is now a very prosperous store keeper in Dubois and has had great use for his mathematics.
Glancing at the table next to theirs I saw Eugene Hecke, Alexander Pieper, and Robert Lee Pieper. They were all laughing at something just then, and I could hardly believe it could be anything but a joke. If you knew them you would believe me. Gene and Alex are two very good farmers in the surrounding territory of Dubois. In fact, they are the best and biggest. Robert Lee is working in the factory at Jasper and is giving his family a fine living.

As I looked away from the table I saw two women dance past. At first glance I could see it was Evelyn Grieve and Mary Jane Baer. Both of these girls are married now. Evelyn married a man from Gary and now lives in the Highlands at Gary. Mary Jane became a professional skater and married a man from West Baden.

Looking toward the center of the floor, I could hardly believe my eyes. Bill Fischer was dancing with Doris Jane Mathies (now Mrs. Leroy Mathies). I can remember that during our school days these two were pretty good friends. Anyway, Doris Jane is working as bookkeeper in Leroy's garage, and Bill Fischer has a city slicker's job at Indianapolis.

Looking over the gymnasium again, I discovered that Joe Weikert, Victor Teder, and Laverne Friedman were absent. I remember hearing that Victor and Joe joined the Navy. I also heard that Imogene Schnell had followed Victor, and a girl from French Lick had followed Joe, and that they were both now married.

Laverne Friedman fulfilled her ambition to become a nurse. She is now a nurse at the Evansville Hospital and moving right up in rank. She was probably on duty tonight or she would have been here.

As the party came to an end I concluded that the Class of '49 was no different from any other class. The class says they have no future but when the time comes they all end up to be worthwhile citizens of their country. And so Father Time turns over another leaf and,........................

"What is that a footstep I hear? It is :: It is my wife coming up the steps. And say, I am supposed to have this mess cleaned up. I had better act as if I were busy.

(Editor's Note: The above is Chapter 17 from the book "Why Young Men Should Not Marry" by the tri-authors George Neukam, Wilda Gehlhausen, and Delbert Meyer.)

Halloween Party

On October 27, 1948, the Juniors and Seniors had a Halloween party. It was a gala affair. The auditorium was brilliantly decorated in black, orange, yellow and green colors. In the center of the auditorium stood a huge Fodder Shock with pumpkins surrounding it.

Different games were played, in which everyone participated. Prizes were won by Jane Mathies, Bill Fischer, Wilma Hall, Claude Segar, and Gene Bauer.

Most of the evening was spent in dancing. Music was furnished with a phonograph and records. Charles Schnell played the piano at intervals.

A luncheon of ice cream and cake, candy and cokes, was served.

Dubois High School “On The Air”

On December 8, students from Dubois High School, with their principal, A. J. Kreitzer, journeyed to station WITZ to give a radio program. The program began at 2:00. It was begun with a choral presentation entitled “The Land is Fair”, given by Paul Baer, Wilda Gehlhausen, Victor Teder, and Edward Rasche. Mrs. Clara Ziegler was at the piano. Second on the program, the song “The Future Generation” was sung by a chorus group composed of the following: Helen Heeke, Louise Hemmerlein, Gerry Schiller, Mary Ann Schott, Hilda Mae Eisenhut, Waunita Kalb, Jane Mathies, Marilyn Hall, Barbara Nigg, Dorothy Teder, Imogene Voelkel, Helen Bachman, Iona Neukam, Geraldine Strohman, Alva Leistner, Charles Schnell, Gabriel Theising, Gene Bauer, and George Neukam. The program was closed with the chorus singing “Winter Wonderland”.

The program was sponsored by the Coca Cola Bottling Company.

Beta Club

In the school year, 1948-'49, a Beta Club was formed at Dubois High School. Principal A. J. Kreitzer was sponsor of this club. To be a member of the Beta Club, one must maintain a B average in his studies.

The officers of the club were elected. They are: President, George Neukam; Vice-President, Paul Baer; Secretary, Helen Bachman; and Treasurer, Herschel Zehr. The other members of the club are: Barbara Nigg, Elta Breitweiser, Norma Sendlewec, Imogene Voelkel, Mary Nordhoff, Laverne Mathies, Louise Hemmerlein, Viola Himsel, Ardella Hopf, Christina Kempf, Emil Fuhrman, Joe Ziegler, Delbert Meyer, Melvin Leistner, Joe Weikert, Frederick Patcheak.

Seniors Go To State House

On March 1, 1949, we, the Senior Class, with our sponsor Mr. Elmer Zehr, chartered a bus to Indianapolis. Our first stop was at the State House. Since the Legislature was then in session, we visited the Senate and the House of Representatives. We were recognized in the Senate by Senator Leo Sterle, and in the House of Representatives by Frank Seng. We also visited Governor Schricker.

We climbed to the very top of the majestic Soldiers and Sailors Monument, which is dedicated "To Indiana's Silent Victors". In the basement of this monument is the Military Picture Gallery, with pictures and records of the wars of the United States.

The last place we visited was the Indiana World War Memorial, which consists of the cenotaph, the mall, the obelisk, and the shrine. This Memorial is a magnificent structure built in honor of the men of the State who fought in World War I. The Shrine Room is made almost entirely of marble and glass; some of which is imported from countries all over the world. Hanging in the center of the room is the largest American Flag in Indiana. Above the flag shines the crystal Star of Destiny, which weighs four thousand six hundred pounds. Beneath the flag stands the "Altar of Consecration". The purpose of Memorial Hall, or the Shrine Room, is to inspire good citizenship in all those who visit it.

We found this trip very educational and entertaining.
